

Odre Sacrificial Oak (Odres Upurozols)

Odre Sacrificial Oak

Location

State: Latvia

Region: Kurzeme

County: Talsi

Parish: Lauciene

Other references to the location

On the edge of the Jūrmala-Talsi highway, on the verge of the forest, 10 m off the road.

Coordinates

lat= 57.2310333333, lon=22.6885333333

57° 13' 51" N, 22° 41' 18" E

Description

The circumference of the oak is 5.04 m, which ranges the secular tree somewhere at the end of the first thousand secular trees. Its foliage is quite dense, the tree - healthy.

Narrative

There is a tale about the oak that it used to be an ancient cult tree - a sacrificial oak. Its age could be around 250 years.

Attraction

Some

Availability

Very easily accessible. There are no information signs. Located not far from the Odre Devil's Stone. Reachable by path, 10 m of the road.

Infrastructure, management, facilities

There have been no facilitation and maintenance works performed within the territory, no indication signs. One ¹ can leave his car at the edge of the road. Behind the oak underbrush have grown, further on - the woods.

Local info

There is no information stand on site

Capacity

41 and more

Publicity

Known

Legal Status

Private

Comments

In the nearby surroundings, at the Vāveri homestead, there is an older and thicker oak that has grown into dense underbrush.